THE CYCLIST

DON'T BURST THEIR BUBBLE, GIVE THEM SPACE.

DENIS HUGHES is a familiar figure to many motorists in the Waimakariri. He regularly cycles the 15 kilometres from his home in Ashley to Kaiapoi Borough School where he works as a teacher. He appreciates the motorists who do give him plenty of room, especially on the narrow Ashley River Bridge, but is concerned about the motorists who do not appear to notice him when they are making a left hand turn.

MOTORISTS, PLEASE GIVE OTHER ROAD USERS PLENTY OF ROOM WHEN PASSING.

Waimakariri

SAFETY

DON'T BURST THEIR BUBBLE, GIVE THEM SPACE.

Case studies

Wellington City Council staff get on their bikes

Wellington City Council staff are leading by example and trading four-wheeled travel for the two-wheeled variety.

WCC bought three Giant Sedona bikes for staff in the Council's Roding and Traffic unit to use for trips around town. Infrastructure Manager Stavros Michael says staff are enthusiastic about using the bikes
